1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-13, drawn to a cooled electronic article, classified in class 361, subclass 700.
 - II. Claims 14-18, drawn to a method of making the article, classified in class 29, subclass 890.03.
2. Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case steps such as communicating and flowing are so broad as to be capable of producing a multitude of different articles.
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Mr. Williams on 5-14-03 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of group I, claims 1-13. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 14-18 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.
5. Action on elected claims 1-13 follows.
6. The written description refers to numerals 16,20 and 35. The drawings do not show these numerals. 16a/b and 20a,b, etc. are shown. 16 is not 16a. Please correct.

7. On page 6, 32 is both conduit and orifice. This is confusing. Please correct this also.

8. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

9. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

These claims recite "second" header/conduit, however the claims they depend from lack a first element which is needed for antecedent reasons.

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over any one of McDunn, Marmillion or Ahn taken with Jaeger.

Each primary reference shows channeled dies/chips/etc., for fluid passage as claimed. Column 3 of McDunn discusses closed loop cooling. Figures 4 and 5 of Marmillion show the fluid flow and shaped channels as claimed. See also figure 2 of Ahn. Each of these references also show the sealed member closing the channels except for the inlet and outlet. The only thing lacking in these references are the particulars of the cooling system such as condenser and gravity flow. However, such are notoriously known on the liquid cooling art and would have been obvious to add to any of the primary references to better cool the parts. Note also that Jaeger provides the above stated cooling system details.
